

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Give the gift of reading

'Twas the month before Christmas, when all through Norwalk
We townsfolk are stirring, and talking the talk;

Peace seems so elusive this
holiday season;

All the running around just might be the reason.

There's the traffic and parking
with which to contend;

And presents to buy and gift
wrap and send.

But there's a way to avoid the
holiday blues;

And it doesn't cost anything,
it's all yours to use.

Why the library of course, it's
so warm and so quiet;

Come in and unwind, find a tale and untie it.

The library Friends made a tree, so come have a look;

And help the Friends out by buying a book!

Then answer the call from Literacy Volunteers;

They need you now, after all these years.

They give the gift of reading to those who would learn;

Give them a gift and you'll find
Peace in return.
